Coppola is the top-producing office broker in Lee & Associates' 35-year history. He is also one of the eight founding principals of Lee & Associates Arizona. Coppola specializes in the representation of landlords and tenants in the leasing and sale of office properties and has three decades of brokerage experience, including completing more than 3,500 transactions. He is the author of three books: "How to Win in Commercial Real Estate Investing," "The Art of Commercial

Real Estate Leasing," and "The Fantastic Life: How to get it, live it and pass it on" (coming out October, 2014).

Professional strengths: "Grit is my top quality. I have always been willing to do what it takes to win. That said, I have always put my clients' needs in front of my own."

Fun fact: "I was drafted and played professional baseball in the Minnesota Twins organization."
